People who work in restaurants, fast food, shops and pharmacies are set to have their Sunday and public holiday penalty rates slashed from 1 July.

This is a real pay cut for more than 700,000 Australians who can least afford it.

In NSW alone, it would add up to more than $10 million* in lost wages over the Easter long weekend.

The Turnbull Government is not doing anything to help, but Australians are standing up together to stop these cuts.
