Petition from Wyong and the surrounding Central Coast district calling on the NSW Government to ensure that our hospitals are publicly operated and kept in public hands

This petition from the population of Wyong and surrounding districts brings to the attention of the House an urgent concern in regards to the current NSW Government's proposal for Wyong and other hospitals to be operated by a private provider.

As citizens we are concerned about previous failures when vital services were privatised in our health system. This experience is not isolated to NSW, but across the country and internationally. In the past where privatisations have failed, governments have had to step in and spend considerable amounts of taxpayers' money to ensure these essential services continue to be provided. A recent example of this was the Port Macquarie hospital, which had to be bought back and was "subsequently paid for twice and then given away", according to the Auditor General of the day.

We are also aware of the NSW Coalition Government's recent cancellation of the contract with a private operator at the Royal North Shore hospital because of the risk to patient care.

The undersigned petitioners therefore ask the Legislative Assembly to intervene immediately to ensure that our hospitals are publicly operated and kept in public hands.
