DEPUTY PRESIDENT YOUNG

MELBOURNE, 14 OCTOBER 2021

Application for approval of the Fullerton Health Medical Centres and ANMF Practice Nurses Enterprise Agreement 2021

[1] Fullerton Health T/A Fullerton Health (the Employer) has made an application for approval of an enterprise agreement known as the Fullerton Health Medical Centres and ANMF Practice Nurses Enterprise Agreement 2021 (the Agreement) pursuant to s 185 of the Fair Work Act 2009 (the Act). The Agreement is a single-enterprise agreement.

[2] The Employer did not provide employees with 7 clear days between notification of the time, place and method of voting and the commencement of the vote. The Employer provided submissions as to this error on 5 October 2021. I am satisfied having regard to those submissions and the Full Bench decision in *Huntsman Chemical Company Australia Pty Ltd T/A RMAX Rigid Cellular Plastics & Others*¹ (Huntsman) that this constitutes a minor technical or procedural error for the purposes of s 188(2)(a) of Act. Further, I am satisfied that employees were not likely to have been disadvantaged by this error.

[3] Accordingly, notwithstanding the matters identified in paragraph [2] above, I am satisfied that the Agreement has been genuinely agreed within the meaning of s 188(2).

[4] The Employer has provided written undertakings. A copy of the undertakings is attached at Annexure A. I am satisfied that the undertakings will not cause financial detriment to any employee covered by the Agreement and the undertakings will not result in substantial changes to the Agreement. The undertakings are taken to be a term of the Agreement.

[5] Subject to the undertakings referred to above, and on the basis of the material contained in the application, and the accompanying statutory declaration and the additional information provided by the Employer, I am satisfied that each of the requirements of ss 186, 187, 188 and 190 as are relevant to this application for approval have been met.

[6] The Australian Nursing and Midwifery Federation, being a bargaining representative for the Agreement, has given notice under s 183 of the Act that it seeks to be covered by the Agreement. In accordance with s 201(2) and based on the statutory declaration provided by the organisation, I note that the Agreement covers the organisation.

[7] The Agreement was approved on 14 October 2021 and, in accordance with s 54, will operate from 21 October 2021. The nominal expiry date of the Agreement is 30 June 2025.

20.3. Part-time employment

20.3.1 A part-time Employee is an Employee who is engaged to work less than full-time hours of an average of 38 hours per week and whose hours of work are reasonably predictable.

20.3.2 Before commencing part-time employment, the Employer and Employee will agree in writing the guaranteed minimum number of hours to be worked and the rostering arrangements which will apply to those hours.

20.3.3 The terms of the agreement as outlined in clause 20.3.2 may be varied by agreement and recorded in writing.

20.3.4 The terms of this Agreement will apply on a pro rata basis to part-time Employees on the basis that the ordinary weekly hours for full-time Employees are 38.

20.4. Annual review of part-time hours

20.4.1 At the written request of an Employee, the hours worked by the Employee will be reviewed annually. Where the Employee is regularly working more than their specified contract hours then such contract hours shall be adjusted by mutual agreement, to reflect the hours regularly worked. The hours worked in the following circumstances will not be incorporated in the adjustment:

- (a) if the increase in hours is as a direct result of an Employee being absent on leave, such as for example, annual leave, long service leave, maternity leave, workers compensation; and
- (b) if the increase in hours is due to a temporary increase in hours only due, for example, to the specific needs of a patient.

20.4.2 Any adjustment to the contracted hours resulting from a review will, however, only occur by agreement between the Employee and the Employer. The Employer shall not unreasonably withhold agreement. However, agreement will be based on the business needs. The changes shall be such as to readily reflect roster cycles and shift configurations utilised at the workplace. It is understood that every effort will be made to adjust hours as close as possible to those regularly worked but an exact reflection of those additional average hours may not be possible depending on the shift configurations and roster cycles.

20.5. Casual employment

20.5.1 A casual Employee is an Employee engaged in relieving work or work of a casual nature and whose engagement is terminable by the Employer in accordance with the Employer's requirements without the requirement of prior notice by either party. 20.6. Casual Conversion

20.6.1 The Employer will make an offer to a casual Employee to convert to full time or part time employment if:

- (a) The Employee has been employed by the Employer for a 12 month period; and
- (b) During at least the last 6 months of that period, the Employee has worked a regular pattern of hours on an ongoing basis which, without significant adjustment, the Employee could continue to work as a full-time Employee or a part-time Employee (as the case may be).

20.6.2 Notwithstanding sub-clause (i), the Employer is not required to make an offer of full time or part time employment to a casual Employee if there are reasonable grounds not to make the offer, and the reasonable grounds are based on facts that are known, or reasonably foreseeable, at the time of deciding not to make the offer.

20.6.3 The nature and process to be undertaken in relation to an offer to a casual Employee of full time or part time employment, and an Employee's residual right to request casual conversion, is set out in the NES

20.6.4 All disputes arising from the interpretation or application of this clause shall be dealt with in accordance with clause 14 of this Agreement.

20.7. Fixed term employment contracts

- (b) upon the death of an immediate family or household member.

20.9.2 The Employer and the Employee shall agree on the period for which the Employee will be entitled to not be available to attend work. In the absence of agreement, the Employee is entitled to not be available to attend work for up to 48 hours (i.e. two days) per occasion. The casual Employee is not entitled to any payment for the period of non-attendance.

20.9.3 The Employer must not fail to re-engage a casual Employee because the Employee accessed the entitlements provided for in this clause. The rights of the Employer to engage or not to engage a casual Employee are otherwise not affected.

- 22.3. Where the Employer in relation to the police check believes that the Employee is either precluded or is not satisfied that the Employee can meet the inherent requirements of the role, the Employee will be provided with an opportunity to respond prior to any decision being made regarding the employment. Where this occurs the Employee may seek the assistance of their chosen representative.
- 22.4. If the Employer holds a copy of the police check/result, then upon request by the Employee the Employer will provide a copy of the police check/result that is held on the file to the Employee.

- 24.1. Notice of termination by the Employer

24.1.1 At the time of termination, the Employer must provide four weeks' notice to all Employees (other than casual Employees and those Employees within their probationary period in which case the notice will be one week). A shorter notice period may be provided by mutual agreement between the Employer and the Employee.

24.1.2 An Employee over 45 years of age is entitled to one extra weeks' notice if the Employee has completed at least two years of continuous service.

24.1.3 Casuals are to be given notice to the end of their current shift worked.

24.2. Notice of termination by the Employee

24.2.1 At the time of termination, the Employee must provide to the Employer the same periods of notice as listed in clause 24.1 (except that there is no requirement on the Employee to give additional notice based on the age of the Employee concerned).

24.2.2 Casual Employees shall only be required to give notice to the end of their current shift worked.

24.2.3 If the Employee fails to give notice or fails to work their allocated notice period the Employer may withhold any monies due to the Employee on termination under this Agreement an amount not exceeding the Employee's ordinary rate of pay for the notice period, subject to the provisions of section 324(1)(b) of the FWA. 25.1.3 Transmission includes transfer, conveyance, assignment or succession whether by agreement or by operation of law and transmitted has a corresponding meaning.

25.2.2 because of the insolvency or bankruptcy of the Employer.

25.3. Transfer to lower paid duties

Where an Employee is transferred to lower paid duties, the same period of notice must be given as the Employee would have been entitled to if the employment had been terminated and the Employer will make a payment instead of an amount equal to the difference between the former ordinary time rate of pay and the ordinary time rate of pay for the number of weeks of notice still owing. This sub-clause must be read in conjunction with s389 of the FWA which provides that the redeployment must be reasonable in all of the circumstances.

25.4. Redundancy pay

In addition to the period of notice prescribed for termination, an Employee whose employment is terminated (whether in whole or in part) for reasons set out in paragraph 25.2 shall be paid the following amount of severance pay in respect of a period of continuous service. 25.6. Alternative Employment

25.6.1 Where the Employer obtains other acceptable employment for the Employee redundancy payment is not payable by the Employer, subject to an order by FWC.

25.6.2 On application by the Employer, FWC may determine that the amount of redundancy pay is reduced to a specified amount (which may be nil) that FWC considers appropriate.

25.6.4 Acceptable alternative employment shall include, but is not limited to:

- (a) a position which is at the same base rate of pay;

25.7. Employee leaving during notice period

An Employee given notice of termination in circumstances of redundancy may terminate their employment during the period of notice. The Employee is entitled to receive the benefits and payments they would have received under this clause had they remained in employment until the expiry of the notice, but is not entitled to any payment in lieu of any remaining notice.

- (d) Employees engaged for a specific period of time or for a specified task or tasks; or
- (e) casual Employees.

25.10. Transfer of business

25.10.1 The provisions of this clause are not applicable where a business is before or after the date of this agreement, transmitted from the Employer (in this sub-clause called the old Employer) to another Employer (in this subclause called the new Employer), in any of the following circumstances:

- (a) Where the Employee accepts employment with the old Employer which recognises the period of continuous service which the Employee had with the old Employer and any prior old Employer to be continuous service of the Employee with the new Employer; or
- (b) Where the Employee rejects an offer of employment with the new Employer:
 - i. in which the terms and conditions are substantially similar and no less favourable, considered on an overall basis, than the terms and conditions applicable to the Employee at the time of ceasing employment with the old Employer; and 25.10.2 The FWC may vary 25.10.1(b) if it is satisfied that this provision would operate unfairly in a particular case.

41.17. Replacement Employees

41.17.1 A replacement Employee is an Employee specifically engaged or temporarily promoted or transferred as a result of an Employee proceeding on parental leave.

41.17.2 Before the Employer engages a replacement Employee the Employer must inform that person of the temporary nature of the employment and of the rights of the Employee who is being replaced.

41.18. Consultation and Communication during Parental leave

41.18.1 Where an Employee is on parental leave and a definite decision has been made that will have a significant effect on the status, pay or location of the Employee's pre-parental leave position, the Employer shall take reasonable steps to:

- (a) make information available in relation to any significant effect the change will have on the status or responsibility level of the position the Employee held before commencing parental leave; and
- (b) provide an opportunity for the Employee to discuss any significant effect the change will have on the status or responsibility level of the position the Employee held before commencing parental leave.

41.18.2 The Employee shall take reasonable steps to inform the Employer about any significant matter that will affect the Employee's decision regarding the duration of parental leave to be taken, whether the Employee intends to return to work and whether the Employee intends to request to return to work on a part-time basis.

41.18.3 The Employee shall also notify the Employer of changes of address or other contact details which might affect the Employer's capacity to comply with sub-clause 41.18.

41.19. Pre-natal appointments or parenting classes

If an Employee is required to attend pre-natal appointments or parenting classes and such appointments or classes are only available or can only be attended during the ordinary rostered shift of an Employee, then on production of satisfactory evidence of attendance at such appointment or class, the Employee may access his or her carer's leave credit. 42.1.1 An Employee shall be entitled to long service leave with pay, in respect of continuous service with the Employer, in accordance with the provisions of their pre-FWA award derived entitlement, or the relevant state long service leave legislation, whichever provides the greater benefit.

42.1.2 The amount of such entitlement for each jurisdiction is summarised at Appendix D. The definition of continuous service, the rate of accrual and the details concerning payment and taking of long service leave is governed by the relevant pre-FWA award derived entitlement or state/territory legislation as amended.

42.1.3 The Employer shall keep or cause to be kept a long service leave record for each Employee, containing particulars of service, leave taken and payments made.

42.2. Other matters

42.2.1 Notwithstanding the above, the parties agree that an Employee, by mutual agreement with the Employer, may elect to take half of the period of their accrued long service leave at double pay or, alternatively, double the period of their accrued long service leave at half pay providing that it is in accordance with the relevant state legislation.

42.2.2 Applications under this clause shall be at the initiative of the Employee and shall be in writing.

42.2.3 The parties recommend that Employees seek independent advice regarding the taxation implications of seeking payment under this sub-clause. The Employer shall not be held responsible in any way for the cost or outcome of any such advice.

42.2.4 The Employer, if required by the Employee, shall provide information as to the amount of tax the Employer intends to deduct where payment of long service leave is sought under sub-clause 42.2.1 the Employer shall not be responsible for the decision made by the Employee as a result of this information.

42.3. Employees shall be entitled to take long service leave pro-rata on completion of seven years service and to be paid long service leave pro-rata on termination.

43.1. This clause applies to all Employees, including casuals.

43.2. Definitions

43.2.1 In this clause:

family and domestic violence means violent, threatening or other abusive behaviour by a family member of an Employee that seeks to coerce or control the Employee and that causes them harm or to be fearful.

- (b) the leave does not accumulate from year to year; and
- (c) is available in full to part-time Employees.

43.3.2 A period of leave to deal with family and domestic violence may be less than a day by agreement between the Employee and the Employer.

43.4. Taking leave to deal with family and domestic violence

43.4.1 An Employee may take the leave set out at clause 43.3 to deal with family and domestic violence if the Employee:

43.4.2 The reasons for which an Employee may take leave include making arrangements for their safety or the safety of a family member (including relocation), attending urgent court hearings, or accessing police services.

43.5. Service and continuity

The time an Employee is on unpaid leave (if applicable) to deal with family and domestic violence does not count as service but does not break the Employee's continuity of service.

43.6. Notice and evidence requirements

43.6.1 Notice

An Employee must give the Employer notice of the taking of leave by the Employee under this clause. The notice:

- (a) must be given to the Employer as soon as practicable (which may be a time after the leave has started); and

43.6.2 Evidence

- (b) Depending on the circumstances such evidence may include a document issued by the police service, a court or a family violence support service, or a statutory declaration.

43.7. Confidentiality

43.7.1 Employers must take steps to ensure information concerning any notice an Employee has given, or evidence an Employee has provided under clause 43.6, is treated confidentially, as far as it is reasonably practicable to do so.

43.7.2 Nothing in clause 43.7 prevents the Employer from disclosing information provided by an Employee if the disclosure is required by an Australian law or is necessary to protect the life, health or safety of the Employee or another person.

Note: Information concerning an Employee's experience of family and domestic violence is sensitive and if mishandled can have adverse consequences for the Employee. The Employer may consult with such Employees regarding the handling of this information.

Clinical Nurse Specialist (Level 2)

The Clinical Nurse Specialist (CNS) classification is positional – a nurse must be appointed to a vacancy for an approved CNS position in order to be classified at Level 2.

The classification of CNS means a Registered Nurse with relevant post-basic qualifications and 12 months' experience working in the clinical area of their specified post-basic qualification, or a minimum of four years' post-basic registration experience, including three years' experience in the relevant specialist field and who satisfies the local criteria. A Registered Nurse can be appointed to a CNS based on the criteria set out below.

Eligibility:

- Post graduate qualifications that are equivalent to or higher than a Cert III or equivalent in a field that is directly related to primary health care.
- The qualification must be used to provide higher level care/services in the clinic (i.e. appointment to CNS classification is not automatic upon attaining post-graduate qualification, and requires demonstration of application of knowledge gained and delivery of higher level services/care)
- Has previous experience in patient and staff education.
- Current drivers license

- Nurses who meet the eligibility criteria above will be entitled to apply for a CNS vacancy at any clinic operated by the Employer.

The Nurse must demonstrate:

- Higher levels of skill in clinical decision making, in problem identification, solution, analysis, and interpretation of clinical data.
- Comprehensive knowledge of patient assessment, disease management, nursing interventions and clinical care in the primary health setting
- Mentorship to less experienced nurses, including graduate nurses.

The CNS is required to:

- Initiate and/or actively participate in at least 2 Quality Improvement Projects each year.
- Present a teaching/education session to staff or develop a self-learning education package annually.
- Maintain best evidence practice by involvement in relevant professional bodies.
- Contribute to the establishment and updating of protocols and procedures for clinical practice

Over-riding Principles:

When considering the appointment of a nurses to a CNS vacancy, the following must be taken into account:

- The CNS must be demonstrably fulfilling a higher skilled and more demanding role than would generally be expected of a Registered Practice Nurse (Level 1).
- The fact that a nurse practices his/her profession in a narrow so-called "specialised" field does not make him or her a CNS.
- Care needs to be taken to ensure that the practice of new skills or the performance of any other particular task may merely reflect changes occurring generally to all levels of nursing care and treatment which is general change in the overall standard of nursing. These general changes to nursing care and standards do not qualify an Employee to be paid as a CNS. The fact that a nurse practices "new" skills or highly technical skills does not make that nurse a CNS.
- The fact that a nurse may be able to undertake and perform some tasks better than other nurses or that they may be considered to be "all-rounders" and therefore able to undertake all tasks competently does not of itself justify the specialist status.

Nurse Practitioner (Level 3)

- Requires registration with AHPRA as Nurse Practitioner, having met and maintained the Registration Standard set by the Nursing & Midwifery Board of Australia for endorsement as a Nurse Practitioner.
